

Who We Are

At Good Sam you'll find a faith community dedicated to sharing Christ's most generous welcome. No matter what – your age, religious background, ethnicity, marital status, social or economic status, gender identity, sexual orientation, mental or physical challenges, or political affiliation or leanings – you are welcome here. Just as Jesus practiced radically inclusive love and hospitality, we warmly invite everyone with abundant generosity. In fact, we're not complete without you!

Children, Youth
& Families

What's offered for families and youth?

Intergenerational Choir

A choir of middle school age and older to join in with the adult choir and make a joyful noise together! The choir meets on Thursday evenings for rehearsal and sings for the Sunday 10:30 liturgy during the school year.

Acolytes

Being an acolyte gives youth of all ages a chance to serve at the altar! Training is provided.

Childcare/Nursery

Available in the education wing on Sundays from 10:00-12:00 and for other church events as needed.

Godly Play

A Christian education class for children ages 2-7 that meets from 9:45 to 10:20 on Sundays at Good Sam! Godly Play comes out of a Montessori-inspired philosophy of teaching, and the kids learn the stories of The Bible in an interactive story-telling way!

Social Events for Families

Fun events for families with young children scheduled throughout the year, including games, kid friendly meals, themed parties, holiday celebrations and more.

Corvallis Youth Collective

A gathering of middle and high school youth from Church of the Good Samaritan, Grace Lutheran Church, First United Methodist Church, First Presbyterian Church, First Congregational UCC, Unitarian Universalist Fellowship of Corvallis and First Christian Church. We meet on a monthly basis for games, fellowship, food and more!

Middle School Group

Meets on occasion for activities and outings to build community among middle school youth at Good Sam.
